Dear Hiring Manager,

At this moment I am an enthusiastic and ambitious career changer seeking to combine my linguistic background as a teacher and translator with my passion for Web design and development. I recently successfully completed an intensive online Web Design course (5-course specialization of HTML5, CSS3, JavaScript, Bootstrap 4 and Frameworks JQuery, Responsive Design) by University of Michigan. Furthermore, I am taking another course of JavaScript programming.

I bring to the table a relevant skill set, including a high degree of organisation, planning, solving problems and multi-tasking abilities. I am convinced that by reviewing my resume, you will get the right idea of my potential. I hope it will be your company to give me this opportunity and transform my passion into a satisfying job.

I am conscious of being at the beginning of my IT career so I am ready to accept any kind of contract proposals.

Best regards,
Aya Berdyeva.
